Introduction: A COVID-19 Global Ceasefire

As the world faces the common risk of COVID-19, there have been renewed calls for multilateral action for peace. UN Secretary-General António Guterres has called for an immediate and comprehensive global ceasefire, emphasising the need to reinforce diplomatic action, create viable conditions for delivery of humanitarian aid, and "bring hope to places that are among the most vulnerable" to the pandemic. Women-led civil society organisations, including WILPF members and partners, have been among the first to build on the momentum of this call to continue their vital work to bring peace to their communities.

As of mid-May 2020, there are ongoing ceasefires in Cameroon, Sudan, Angola, and Thailand; ceasefires ended in Colombia and the Philippines; and ceasefires were broken in Yemen, Libya, and Myanmar.

In Cameroon, the Southern Cameroons Defence Forces (SOCADEF) militia has enacted a temporary ceasefire for COVID-19, but thus far are alone in doing so. In Libya, a ceasefire between the Government of National Accord and the Libyan National Army (LNA) under the helm of General Khalifa Haftar lasted one day, but quickly dissolved into firefights in multiple locations, greatly harming any chances of humanitarian response let alone an opportunity to negotiate an overdue and permanent ceasefire. Overall, the level of violence in Libya has dramatically escalated since the end of March. In Afghanistan, while a permanent ceasefire is meant to be part of intra Afghan talks, these efforts have been
